Rebecca Romijn and Jerry O'Connell went prairie chic for their summer wedding

Rebecca Romijn & Jerry O'Connell

“The object was to look as if we'd gone around the property and picked things, as opposed to shopping the flower market.”

—Clifford Miller of TFS Studio and Event Design in Los Angeles

the bouquet

A green-and-white bouquet of roses and geraniums with steel grass evokes a countryside feel. Note the contrasting gingham fabric and vintage grosgrain ribbon.

the décor Rustic metal pitchers overflowing with white ranunculus and fresh field blossoms were placed around the ceremony site. —Jennifer Multhead
